Healthcare, Smarter.

Residents & Fellows

Over the past decade, the responsibility of institutions to monitor their resident and fellow performance has grown drastically. Everything from patient satisfaction to clinical experience needs to be tracked and made available for review.

Prominence's Resident and Fellow Scorecard combines health record, patient satisfaction, resident and program data together in a seamless view for instant analysis.

Our Resident and Fellow Scorecard aggregates all of the measures you need to track the performance of your residents and fellows throughout your organization. Providing high quality, data-driven feedback to trainees on their performance, including benchmarking against their peers, all with row-level data to back up the high-level statistics.

Monitor your residents and fellows throughout your organization against KPIs.

Enable residents and fellows to view their own performance, and prevent them from seeing information they shouldn't.

Quickly leverage and share data required for ACGME reporting with accurate and informed metrics.
