Surgical Services

The operating room is often the lifeblood of the hospital, generating 70% of more of the revenue for health systems. This makes being able to accurately deliver information to managers and leaders in a timely manner all the more critical as competition increases and margins decrease.

Prominence's Surgical Services application combines data from your source systems (EHR, materials management, anesthesia, etc.) to give you a governed and complete picture of your operations and outcomes. This includes automatically serving up recommendations for improving utilization, lowering costs, and improving outcomes.

By providing high-level KPIs, trending over time, and notifications/alerts to your inbox, the Prominence Surgical Services application ensures you're acting efficiently on your data. Additionally, the application provides row-level detail behind all of those numbers to ensure you understand exactly why and how you should be acting.
